DANIELA

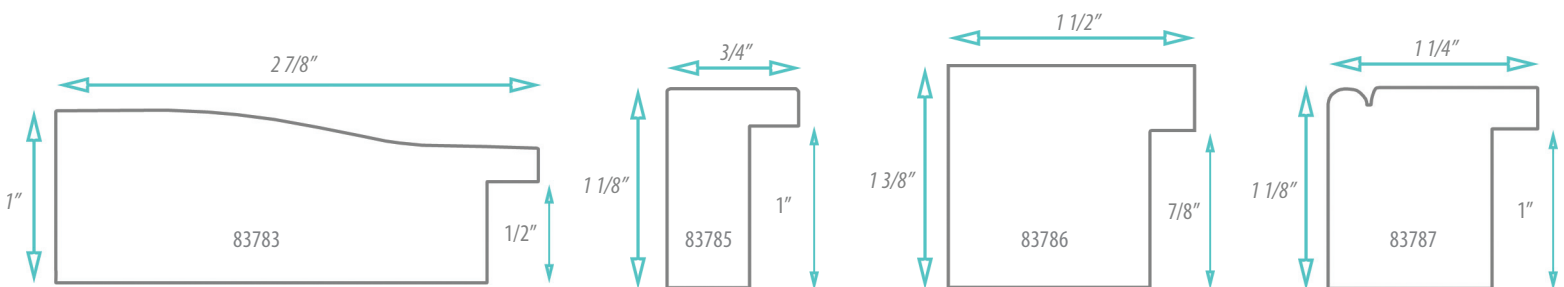

83787

The Daniela Collection consists of 5 profiles in rich warm walnut veneer. The surface is finished with a wax polish to give it a burnished luster that enhances the worn rippled texture of the wood.

The overall look of this collection is one of antiquity and heritage, paired with elegant simple profiles that bring these items into relevance with today's interior design and framing applications. The open grain of the wood displays subtle patterns of contrast in tones and highlights brought forward by the rich stain of its furniture finish. Though rich and refined, the collection has a slightly rustic feel which broadens its utility and appeal for a greater number of framing solutions.

Daniela calls to popular design trends which has seen a revival of traditional and provincial design, providing framing solutions for classical fine art, folk art, oil paintings, pastels, watercolors, photography, lithographs, and decorative art.
